DETAILED ACTION

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE:

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1, 21 and 28 identify the uniquely distinct steps of: validating the second set of units, repeating the steps of combining and validating one or more times using the second set of units in place of the initial set of units until a convergence condition is satisfied, wherein the second set of units comprises a plurality of units, and wherein validating the second set of units comprises: detecting (a) how often each of the plurality of units appears by itself separate from others of the plurality of units, detecting (b) how often two or more of the plurality of units appear next to each other across an entire set of queries, and comparing a result of (a) with a result of (b).

In contrast, Steinkraus (US Patent 6,363,373 B1) teaches a search query terms is broken into word tokens, such as Boolean or keyword prior to submission to the search engine to permit searching for concepts in the concept referenced database (col. 2, lines 40-42, col. 5, lines 26-27, col. 7, lines 35-41). Bond et al (US Patent 6,539,348 B1) teaches words in a sentence is tokenized to a list of syntactic identifiers. The tokens comprises the list of syntactic identifiers are used consecutively and compared with a first list of rules in order to produce a narrower set of possible syntactic interpretations of the words of the sentence. Using the narrower set of possible interpretations, token merging proceeds and iteration program code which applies a first set of rules, second set of rules for cycling though the first and second inductive merging program codes until no further reductions in the syntactic interpretations can be made (abstract, col. 2, lines 3-18).

Thus, prior art of record neither render obvious nor anticipates the combination of claimed elements in light of the specification; therefore, claims 1-34 are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
